

By sharing your personal experiences, iCureCeliac® empowers you to to advance the development of better diagnostics, treatments, and a cure for celiac disease.

Of 6,500+ iCureCeliac® participants:

85%

always keep a strict glutenfree diet

85%

still experience symptoms while on a strict gluten-free diet

70% were exposed to gluten at least once in the past month

81%

feel that there are not enough choices for treatment of their gluten-related disorder

77%

say their health has improved since their diagnosis

51%

sought nutritional counseling after being diagnosed

24% never sought nutritional counseling due to financial reasons

1/%

haven't seen a doctor in 5 years for their gluten-related disorder due to financial reasons

28% were discouraged by one or more healthcare provider(s) for being tested for their gluten-related disorder

70% had up to 7 years pass in between experiencing the first symptoms of their gluten related disorder and getting diagnosed